

ASHLEY ROGERS

Ashley is a mother to three children, 2 girls and a boy. Her son was diagnosed with ADHD at 5 years old and most recently PTSD, Conduct Disorder and Anxiety Disorder have been added. Ashley is an amazing advocate for her child and attends resource events all over the county to ensure she is up to date on all the new trends. Ashley lives in Orlando with her husband and children. Ashley took her passion for being an effective advocate for her family and turned it into helping others advocate for their child by becoming a Family Partner in Orange County. She works diligently on not only helping her family but by helping others in need. She is a true inspiration!
